Aloha Pacific Federal Credit Union Appoints Stanley M. Inamasu and Joseph M. Magaldi, Jr. to Board of Directors

HONOLULU—Aloha Pacific Federal Credit Union (Aloha Pacific) appointed Stanley M. Inamasu and Joseph M. Magaldi, Jr. to its board of directors.

Stanley M. Inamasu was a chief fiscal analyst for the city and county's budget department until his retirement in 2003. He led the fiscal/capital improvement program administration division, which was responsible for projecting citywide revenues, completing capital improvement projects and developing and updating multi-year financial planning.

He has been involved with the Boy Scouts of America for since 1997, most recently serving as district chair for Friends of Scouting, a fundraising organization. He is a graduate of Baldwin High School and the University of Hawaii, where he earned a bachelor of business administration with a minor in economics.

Joseph M. Magaldi, Jr. works as a private consultant for transportation and governmental affairs. He serves as vice chair of the Civilian Advisory Committee to the Metropolitan Planning Organization, board member of Visitor ALOHA Society of Hawaii and Shidler Alumni Association and is chair of the city and county of Honolulu's transportation commission.

A retired Marine Corps lieutenant colonel, Magaldi's duties included serving as a Marine Corps controller, head of the Marine Corps inspector general's onsite examination team, responsible for auditing financial and personnel records throughout the Marine Corps. He earned a bachelor of business administration with a minor in accounting from the University of Hawaii and a master's in business administration from Pepperdine University.
